

Job Advert: Operations Manager
Salary: £40k - £50k DOE
Closing Date for Applications: 31st January 2010

Innovative, Tenacious, Energetic Leader

We are about to embark on an ambitious growth strategy that will cement our position as a provider of quality windows to the commercial market. We are looking for someone that will make this happen.

You will have actual experience of either running or setting up a new facility as Operations Manager within the windows, cladding sector. You will understand the dynamics of operational efficiencies and how to monitor a workforce from the shop-floor through to management level.

Having worked in an operational capacity you will be a composite all rounder that is not afraid to get their hands dirty. That said you will also bring with you experience of larger organisations and the range of structures and processes and approaches they use to successful effect.

Most importantly you will have proven experience of leading change from within, of inspiring those around you and of embedding lasting improvement.

As an individual you will be naturally engaging, empathetic and approachable but you will also need to be firm, resilient and tenacious.
